Public Engagement

An illustration on a teal background. At the top, a hand in a brown sleeve holds a red and white lifebuoy. Below it, a hand in a dark blue sleeve reaches up from a sea of papers with green and white stripes. The sky is decorated with white clouds.

when individuals from diverse backgrounds/expertise engage with knowledge-production and/or decision making in a collective endeavour

- = Citizen participation
- = Citizen engagement
- = Citizen involvement
- = Community engagement
- = Civic engagement

Why PE?

“Europe can not thrive without ensuring the best possible match between the immense potential achievements science has to offer and the needs, values and aspirations of citizens”.

“Citizen science can make science more socially relevant, accelerate and enable production of new scientific knowledge, increase public awareness about science and ownership of policy making, as well as increase the prevalence of evidence-based policy-making.”

PREPARATION

- Mapping participants
(“Who to include”)
- ‘Engagement fatigue’ (!)
 - Building relationship/trust

IMPLEMENTATION

- Method/strategy
(cf. level of participation)
- Toolboxes online:
 - ACTION CATALOGUE
(<http://actioncatalogue.eu/search>)
 - GAP2 Toolbox
(<http://gap2.eu/methodological-toolbox>)

ASSESSMENT

- Purpose? Be explicit!
- Focus on outcome or on process?
- In different stages
(start, during, end)

LESSONS LEARNT

Learning by doing (every river is different)

Clear message/convincing storyline

Output for science & policy? Make sure to pay enough attention to quality control of the data

Consolidation/Europeanisation & long-term engagement

LESSONS LEARNT

'Co-creation' is fancy (but many formats top-down)

Be open-minded, get inspired by others

Test, test, test & evaluate!

Strong bias biodiversity/species in CS (future?)

Campaigning ! (where can citizens contribute?)

Need more scientists who communicate
(Science Barometer)

'Big Seashell Survey'

LESSONS LEARNT

Start small/test/be flexible & prepared

Look for opportunities & coordination! (cf. NL)

Topic hits the hearts of people/output for science

Strong partnership needed (different roles)

Communication role of local government
(vs. few CS-projects coordinated by them)

Take home messages

- Think big, start small (if needed) & learn by doing/testing/evaluating.
- Consider your current situation and goals carefully before you start (controllable situation?). Have a convincing message/story.
- Build a strong and diverse partnership, with the right areas of expertise (science, communication, organization,...)
- Be open-minded & flexible. Look for win-win situations, make work-with-work.
- Watch out for boredom and too much habit creeping in. Keep innovating.
- Don't shy away from out-of-the-box and creative approaches.
- Demonstrate what citizens can do ('campaigning'). Stimulate scientific outreach.

Thanks for your attention!
